

We strive for new immigrants, especially Asians, to have the support and resources they need to thrive.

Learning that over 20% of participants were commuting from Quincy to receive services in Boston, we launched a Quincy office in 2014.

Today, BCNC serves hundreds of families in the South Shore with youth leadership, adult English classes, and mental health support services.

Every year BCNC engages

13,000

children, youth, and adults

86% are Asian

41% are new immigrants

78% are low income

Make an Impact to Strengthen Immigrant Families

Show your support to immigrant communities by building a more equitable future. BCNC believes when immigrants have the support and resources they need to thrive all of society benefits.

The demand for BCNC services continues to rise. Join us in making an impact in the following key areas:

- Youth Leadership and College Access programs
- Adult English classes to prepare for college and career
- Family Counseling and Parenting Workshops

"BCNC is a wonderful organization providing services for my family. It helped us build a new life."

- Fanny, BCNC Adult Education Graduate and Parent
